Macfarland and Watrous Deliver Talks Here and in Baltimore Today.

GIVE OUTLINE OF WORK OF COMMITTEE OF 100

Twentieth Century Club Hears Address on Washington's Needs at All Souls' Church.

Two members of the committee of one hundred today delivered addresses before important organizations of women. seizing the opportunity to acquaint them with the relations between the District of Columbia and the federal government, and to ask that they appeal to senators and representatives against legislation pending in Congress which would do away with the "half-and-half" plan of supporting the federal city.

One address was delivered by Henry B. Macfarland, chairman of the executive committee of the committee of one hundred, before the Twentieth Century Club, at All Souls' Church, at noon to-day, and the other was delivered by Richard B. Watrous, secretary of the American Civic Association, before the Woman's Civic League in Baltimore, also today at noon.

Mr. Macfarland said in part Mr. Macfarland said, in part:
"Congress as a whole is just and wise. Moreover, under the Constitution it has exclusive control of the District of Columbia. All the senators and all the representatives are under the constitutional duty to take part in that control. Therefore, if you share the common American interest and pride in the common American eapital, speak to your personal friends in Congress, write to others, and write to your friends in the states to do the same, exercising the right of petition against any measures such as the four passed by the House with only seventy-five members present proposing to upset the arrangement of proposing to upset the arrangement of 1878 under which the people here pay half the expenses and all the rest of our

Pay $20 a Year Apiece Here.

"We here pay $20 a year apiece and the rest pay 6 cents a year apiece, and there is no complaint from either. The United States owns at least half in value of the real property and pays no taxes. The per capita tax levy here, census The per capita tax levy here, census bulletin 118 of 1913 shows, is higher than in 149 out of the 195 cities having over 32,000 population. It is higher than in a number of these cities having a much larger population and far greater wealth than Washington. The progress, physical and moral, of the National Capital has been made possible by the half-and-half arrangement, and will stop if it is directly or indirectly repealed.

"The facts are outlined in our executive committee report and reference given to the official documents, all published by Congress. Read that report, get your by Congress. Read that report, get your friends in Congress and elsewhere to read it. The facts are the argument. The only difficulty is to get busy men in Congress not directly on the District of Columbia committees to study the question for themselves. Already many of them have done this with excellent results. The sentiment of the country is strongly favor of maintaining the progress of the capital under the present arrangement. capital under the present arrangement. So soon as the dangers now threatening it are known to the country through the national organizations which are beginning to send out the facts, the protest of the people at large will be heard here.

"Every patriotic citizen should see to it that the country and Congress learn the facts as promptly as possible. We of the executive committee are giving our nights and a little of our days, crowded with our regular business, to this common task of patriotism. This voluntary service gives us the right to call upon all others for active personal co-operation in this emergency of the National Capital. Mr. Watrous said, in part:
"The interest of Baltimore in Wash-Mr. Watrous said, in particular of the control of the capital city, ought to be very great. Baltimore is annually visited by hundreds of thousands of people, but it is safe to say that all of your guests before leaving you make it a point to go over to their capital city, and very often it is your pleasure to accompany them. For that reason your pride in washington should be, if anything, a little deeper than that of almost any other city in the United States.
